

STATEMENT OF ORIGINALITY, CONFLICT OF INTEREST AND ASSIGNMENT OF RIGHT OF FIRST PUBLICATION

Date: _____

Members of the Editorial Board of the Revista Española de Pedagogía, the undersigned, as authors of the article entitled:

“ _____ ”

submitted to the Revista Española de Pedagogía for review, DECLARE as follows:

SECTION I: DECLARATION OF ORIGINALITY

The article is ORIGINAL and UNPUBLISHED: it is an intellectual production of the person(s) indicated above and has not been sent to third parties publicly by any printed or digital means.

The article has not been simultaneously submitted for publication to another print or electronic journal or any other written medium or editorial body.

None of the data presented has been plagiarised, fabricated, manipulated or distorted. The original data are clearly distinguishable from those already published.

The original sources on which the information in the manuscript is based are identified and cited, as are the theories and data from papers published previously.

The source of previously published figures, tables, data, photographs, etc., is properly cited, and the necessary permissions for their reproduction are provided.

All tables, graphs, images, or figures are presented in an editable format, or a version without text is provided for correction and translation.

SECTION II: STATEMENT OF AUTHORSHIP AND CONTRIBUTOR ROLES (CRediT TAXONOMY)

All signatories participated in the planning, design, execution of the paper and/or interpretation of results.

No contributors have been omitted and all criteria for scientific authorship are fulfilled.

Only those who have made substantial intellectual contributions, not mere data collection, are included as authors.

In the documentation provided for the review of the academic paper submitted to the REP, the specific roles of each contributor according to the CRediT taxonomy are clearly stated.

In the case of articles produced in collaboration, with regard to the recognition given to the levels of participation assigned by the authors of the article, said authors release the Revista Española de Pedagogía from any liability. The order in which they appear in the final list in this letter will be the order in which they will appear in the article, with the order of priority being established by the authors.

All signatories have critically reviewed the work, approved its final version, and agree to its publication. In this case, the undersigned authors hereby appoint:

_____ as the contact person for correspondence and with sufficient authority to represent the other authors.

In accordance with personal data protection legislation, the authors agree to provide the Journal with a contact email address and the necessary personal data to identify the authorship of the article. In turn, they authorise the Journal to publish, along with the article, the necessary personal data (name, surname, institution of affiliation, city and country, e-mail, and academic identifier, preferably ORCID). Any personal data other than those indicated above will be kept absolutely confidential by the Journal and may not be disclosed or transferred to third parties without the consent of the authors.

SECTION IV: CONFLICT OF INTEREST

There is NO conflict of interest.

YES, there is a conflict of interest (complete the information in the comments section).

The signatories disclose any commercial, financial, personal or institutional ties that may affect the objectivity of the work:

They acknowledge that the Journal does not necessarily share the views expressed in the article.

SECTION V: ETHICAL ASPECTS

The authors are aware of the Journal's Code of Ethics and fully comply with its requirements.

The study has been approved by the relevant ethics committee, if any (indicate name and reference):

Consent has been obtained from those who have contributed unpublished data by means of written communication, with such communication and authorship being properly identified.

The anonymity and confidentiality of individuals and institutions is respected.

The applicable data protection regulations have been observed.

There is no discrimination on the basis of race, gender, social status, functional diversity, religion or age.

SECTION VI: USE OF ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

Artificial intelligence has NOT been used in the production of the article.

The paper submitted complies with REP's AI policy.

The authors are responsible for reviewing and validating all information generated by AI.

SECTION VII: ASSIGNMENT OF RIGHTS

If the submitted article is accepted for publication, the authors retain the copyright and grant the journal the right of first publication, which will then publish the article in print and on the journal's website, under the terms of the Creative Commons CC BY-NC 4.0 licence for use and distribution.

The authors have not previously entered into any contracts with third parties for the assignment of economic rights or licences for use in relation to the intellectual property rights they hold over the submitted article that would prevent them from assigning such rights by means of this agreement.

The authors agree that, with their collaboration, the article submitted will be edited by the Journal's team in accordance with the 'Publication Guidelines' previously established and published on the Journal's official website regarding procedures, format, correction, editing, translation, publication, duration of the editorial process, and other requirements set out in said guidelines.

The authors authorise the reproduction, distribution and public communication of the article in printed and digital format.

The authors authorise the dissemination of the work in databases, repositories and bibliographic indexes.

By signing this document, the authors declare that they have read and fully accepted the established conditions, and the Revista Española de Pedagogía guidelines and instructions for authors.
